Mission in India.
 The Rev. Edward P. Newton, of the Lodianna Mission of the Presbyterian Board in North India, spoke in Westminster Church on Sunday evening.

Mr. Newton and his wife have been over ten years closely at work, and speaking constantly in a foreign tongue. It was, therefore, a matter of some difficulty for him to regain fluency in extemporaneous English speech, but his address was really admirable as well as plain and instructive. He described the Punjab, with its rivers and great prairies, the three seasons—hot, rainy and cold; the methods of irrigation, and the various kinds of mission work. The missionaries print and teach, as well as preach, the Gospel. In speaking of the progress of the cause of Christianity Mr. Newton gave figures which showed conclusively that the ratio of increase was constantly rising, and that the influence of religion was extending with great rapidity.

Westminster Society Entertainment.
 The Westminster Society of Young People had an entertainment on Tuesday evening for themselves and their invited guests. The church parlor was filled and the exercises consisted of music and recitations. Miss F. L. Gallagher gave Mendelssohn's "Prelude," as a piano solo, which was followed by the recitation by Miss Belle Bovee, of "Katie Belle" and "Annie Tabitha," which last piece was admirably interpreted. Miss Belle Bovee and Mr. Off then played a piano and violin duet, in three movements, after which Miss Bovee recited "Holmes' 'Specie Pig.'" Succeeding this came a trio for violin and piano, performed by Miss A. Michell and Messrs. G. and O. Michell, which Miss Bovee followed with the recitation of the "Enchanted Shirt," giving, as an encore, Dr. Holmes' ballad of "The Oysterman."

The various parts of the programme were well rendered, and the performers were all greeted with applause. Miss Bovee, especially, appeared to excellent advantage. Her method is natural, and her selections are invariably well chosen. She has been commended often, in these columns, and she merits our praise more and more.

A Bill in Favor of Temperance.
 A bill was introduced in the Senate April 22, by Mr. Ingalls, to amend Section 3.243 of the Revised Statutes. It proposes to change the present laws with respect to the special tax imposed by the General Government on the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as to provide that collectors of internal revenue shall be prohibited from receiving such special taxes or granting permits or licenses for the carrying on of the business of wholesale or retail liquor dealers or brewers, in any State or municipality in which the carrying on of such business is contrary to the State or municipal laws; and that the payment of any tax imposed by the internal revenue laws for carrying on such business shall not be held to exempt any person from any penalty imposed by the State laws for carrying on the same.

Obituary.

DANIEL A. BEAM.
 A well-known resident of Bloomfield, died on Monday last, after a brief illness, at El Paso, Texas. Mr. Beam had gone South with an invalid daughter, and was not, himself, in very robust health. The announcement of his death was a great shock to his family and friends.

WM. S. JARVIE.
 The death of Mr. Wm. S. Jarvie, which had been anticipated for some time in consequence of his increasing weakness, occurred on Wednesday morning at one o'clock. The family had all been able to reach him, and were with him in his last moments. He suffered little or no pain, and at length gently expired with a smile upon his lips, having been perfectly rational and peaceful throughout his illness.

Mr. Jarvie was born in Perth, Scotland, May 3d, 1806, and was, therefore, in his 77th year. It would be possible to mention many instances of his sincere Christianity and his genuine benevolence of character; but among his latest wishes was the wish, frequently expressed, that nothing be said in public about himself. The funeral services were conducted on Friday afternoon by Rev. S. W. Duffield, of Westminster Church, assisted by Rev. Duncan Kennedy, D. D., Mr. Jarvie's present and former pastors. His best epitaph is the love of those who knew him, living and dead, in the faith which he confessed. And he himself is gone—

"Where loyal hearts and true
 Stand ever in the right,
 All rapture through and through,
 In God's most holy sight."

A Beach Street Episode.
 The other day a little girl, six years old, went next door to spend the afternoon with her five-year-old neighbor, whose mother wishing to go out, expected her to stay. The girl, however, was good girls during her absence, and left them serenely playing with their dolls. The servant was to see to them occasionally.

Soon after Mamma's departure they proceeded to keep their promise in a remarkable way. The tin bath tub was placed in the middle of the floor and partly filled with cold water. Then they dressed themselves of all their clothing (presumably with great difficulty, being unaccustomed to performing this office for themselves), and spent the next half hour in the reasonable pastime of taking a cold bath.

When L's mother returned it was to find two little girls in Sunday school costume under the bed and more water on the floor than was left in the tub. The culprits were promptly put to bed, and strange to say, suffered no ill effects from their self-inflicted bath.

What's in a name? Well, if it's a Russian name we should answer, the Russian bet.
